INTERNATIONAL LEGO DAY
JANUARY 28

LEGO Fun Facts

- International LEGO Day is held on January 28 because that is the day that Ole Kirk Christiansen submitted a patent for the original LEGO brick in 1958. LEGO plastic blocks were first made in 1949.
- LEGO were the first toy bricks designed with parts (studs, holes, etc.) that made the bricks “lock” together making them stronger and less likely to fall apart.
- The name LEGO comes from the first two letters of the Danish words “Leg Godt” which mean “play well”.
- Every single brick created since 1958 can still interlock together.
- Six eight-studded bricks fit together in 915,103,765 different combinations.
- If LEGO figurines were real people, they would be the world's largest population.
- The plural of LEGO is LEGO.
- LEGO is the world’s largest manufacturer of wheels.
- LEGO artists are a real thing. There are people who use LEGO to make art.
- There are so many LEGO that very person on earth could own an average of at least 62 LEGO bricks.
- There are 12,000 different LEGO minifigures.
- LEGO are sold in 130 countries.
- LEGO pieces come in 53 colors.
